INTRODUCTION

Freedom to Act

Educational environment should be open and free to be human.so that people have the freedom to choose any method they wish to learn.one of the important conditions for learning, creating free space learning and encourage learners to express their ideas and thoughts, and also to encourage the use of innovative exploration and learning method. learning purposes, the student provides the greatest incentive to be accurate and achievable. and believes that it is important for them to achieve these goals. Those are the achievement motivation, the process of scouting assignments that involve risks, this type of assignment, if done properly, can lead to an increased sense of confidence in the learner, but a very easy assignments, and the assignments very difficult not becomes to feel this way often leads to a failure. so, the questions and assignments should be consistent with the learner's ability level, so that he will attempt to do the role handle them. Learning motivation is highest when the level is moderate.

Freedom of speech

Freedom of expression the basic criteria for each type of contrapuntal and democratic society. Violations of freedom always lead to the destruction of other human rights. Acceptance of the concept of freedom of expression been widespread in modern societies is included in declarations of human rights and constitutions. General acceptance of the concept of freedom of expression, on the other hand there is general agreement that shall specify the limits of free speech. Most disagreements about the limits of freedom of expression around the following topics: 1 - What are the limits? 2) What damage may be expressed? The important thing is that sometimes words are not only expressed in a sentence, but is also a function of the surgery can be harmful. One of the practical problems that legislators need to be careful distinctions between "the acceptable" and "unacceptable speech", but the same general philosophical arguments often draw boundaries do not have the ability. In addition, because of the fear of being clumsy political power or law, it may not be appropriate for some express statutory prohibition imposed, But do not tell that they are morally expected that people say they cannot legally wrong but would be considered unethical.

Freedom and knowledge and their primacy

Primacy knowledge and thought on freedom: The view that the expansion and development of research and knowledge-based prosperity, freedom, and accordingly Knowledge and thinking that their prosperity and freedom in society contributed to the elimination of an authoritarian context.

But without no cognitive minimal realization of freedom is that possible? Free and free indeed necessary because the designs of the different opinions and the opinions and views of the violence, knowledge and ideas of human flourishing and the road to progress. Knowledge and thinking in this context can only be possible today, freedom of science and research is a priority, but in the past it has not been.

If the freedom to not only look natural and applied to its performance in practice cannot be cited. In a place where freedom should be exploited. It seems that everyone has the freedom and the freedom is an innate freedom, and does not require states. All contemporary movements and creating more favorable conditions for the achievement of political freedom has been taking advantage of the freedom. If you only had enough innate freedom, and intellectual elites in other freedoms, particularly freedom of political and military dictatorships were not.

Preceded Freedom on Knowledge

In view of the need for freedom and the primacy of human knowledge is to know the self and others in need is freedom, and to be free, there is no knowledge. Data and knowledge and ideas, but the process is open and democratic space cannot be provided. Similarly, maturity depends on the accumulated experience of walking freely. Freedom and the freedom of the child is considered to be the ladder of consciousness and awareness. This benefited from the freedom to distribute resources and knowledge and freedom above anything else, it will add itself to the flourishing of ideas and knowledge and ideas and thoughts with e intensified will be found. The primacy of the word and say that anyone who has the opportunity to grow and scanning.

It will also provide the knowledge and ideas. However, it should be remembered that those who are actively seeking primacy of freedom of thought and speech and knowledge that they have something to say. In such a situation, the priorities should be free, but those looking for something to say and write, and do not fulfill the conditions outdoors, they will disappear on their own. In fact, the realization of freedom and the enemy will be those who have falsely present their claims of freedom and open minded to consider.
